

Thought Leadership – Ongoing Projects

Reconciliation Action Plan

The Law Society's Reconciliation Action Plan ("RAP") was launched in July 2012. The RAP constitutes a formal two year program to develop policy with a focus on protecting and promoting the rights of Aboriginal peoples and supporting Indigenous lawyers. For more details view the Reconciliation Action Plan.

The Advancement of Women

In 2011, the Law Society began a project on the advancement of women in the legal profession. Hundreds of members participated in the roundtable forums, attended panel discussions and welcomed the release of the report and 12 recommendations arising from this project. Further information about the project is available on the Advancement of Women page.
