

DR FELICITY BELL

Dr Felicity Bell holds a BA/LLB (Hons I) from the University of Melbourne and a PhD from the University of Sydney. Felicity has researched and published in family law, children and the law, and examines issues relating to best practice, identity and conceptions of ethics among lawyers. She has worked with NSW Legal Aid on facilitating children's participation in family law processes. Felicity has taught family law, legal professional ethics and property law, most recently working as a lecturer at the University of Wollongong where she was also the lawyer member of the Human Research Ethics Committee. Felicity is currently the FLIP Stream Research Fellow at UNSW.