Warren Kalinko
CEO, Keypoint Law

Warren Kalinko is the CEO of Keypoint Law, an innovative and award-winning law firm that is driving transformation in the legal profession. Warren commenced his career as a lawyer with King & Wood Mallesons, and subsequently went in-house where he became head of legal for the OneSteel group of companies. In 2014, in conjunction with UK-firm Keystone Law, Warren launched Keypoint Law – a law firm design for senior lawyers who want more flexibility, freedom and control.

Over the past 5 years, Keypoint has grown to a team of 38 partner-level lawyers, working across 16 practice areas from offices in Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane and Canberra.