

Thomas Kaldor

Head of Legal Transformation, LegalVision

As Head of Legal Transformation at LegalVision, Thomas leads a team responsible for designing and implementing LegalVision's "managed legal services" offering for large businesses. He also runs internal transformation projects to make LegalVision's services more useful and useable for its clients and lawyers. His role brings together three core capabilities:

process design, technology and legal expertise.

Thomas joined LegalVision in 2015, after working as a competition lawyer and an Associate to a High Court judge.