

Cristina Profilio Head of Legal Operations MinterEllison

Cristina is passionate about the practise of law and empowering and challenging lawyers to make change part of their everyday practice. Combining her experience as a lawyer with her leading skill set in legal project management, process improvement and knowledge management, Cristina inspires teams to operate more efficiently through her practical approach to the utilisation of technology, process re-engineering, innovation and change management.

Cristina plays a leading role in the proactive transformation of legal services by establishing and embedding continuous improvement as a corporate capability at MinterEllison. She draws on her experience as a practising lawyer, knowledge manager, lecturer, legal project manager, process improvement specialist and technologist to identify opportunities to drive efficiencies and embed them by building and influencing a culture of continuous improvement.
