

Milan Gandhi
Lawyer, Innovation Ambassador
McCullough Robertson Lawyers
Founder of The Legal Forecast

Milan is a construction and infrastructure lawyer at McCullough Robertson and the firm's inaugural innovation ambassador. As the innovation ambassador, Milan provides strategic support to the firm's leadership on the opportunities inherent in change, and seeks to foster a culture of 'intrapreneurship'.

Milan is an author, presenter and guest lecturer on issues at the intersection of innovation, entrepreneurship and law.

Milan founded The Legal Forecast (thelegalforecast.com), described by the Australian Financial Review as 'a national not-for-profit run by creatively-minded law students and early career professionals seeking better ways to teach, practice and deliver law with a strong flavour of A2J', and graduated from the University of Queensland with a Bachelor of Laws (First Class Honours) in 2017. During his final year of law school, he was selected as the Australian Law Student of the Year and was the recipient of a perfect score.

Milan maintains a keen interest in international climate policy, and is a former Global Voices Scholar and delegate to the United Nations Climate Conference in Lima, Peru.