Performance Standard

Standard of an Accredited Specialist

The Standard of an Accredited Specialist in Wills and Estates Law is that of a 'specially competent practitioner' in the core skills and practical capabilities in the selected area of practice, as assessed against the spectrum of capability of all practitioners in that area of practice. This standard is to be distinguished from the idea that the Scheme requires the highest technical legal knowledge across all aspects of the selected area of practice.

In Wills & Estates this standard is defined as the ability to work at the level of an experienced practitioner in complex matters.

In all tasks and at all times, the specialist:

- Acts in a timely and competent manner;
- Keeps the client fully informed, using clear and concise language; and
- Demonstrates professional responsibility including costs disclosure requirements.

Important

Candidates are advised to read and familiarise themselves with the 2019 Guide to Application and Assessment which contains important information regarding application, process, resources and special consideration etc. This document can be found at: lawsociety.com.au/specialists

Timetable

The shaded area below shows the core assessment period including the dates associated with each assessment.

Candidates need to focus on this core assessment timeframe and plan their workload well in advance.

Based on feedback reports from previous years, candidates are encouraged to dedicate and manage their time during this period to optimise their performance across all assessment tasks.

Candidates are reminded that participating in the Specialist Accreditation program requires a considerable level of commitment if candidates are to achieve their desired outcome.

Core Skills and Knowledge Areas

Candidates wishing to become an Accredited Specialist should be able to:

- Display knowledge of the law and procedure which underpins the performance of tasks in this area of practice; and
- Demonstrate the following tasks to the level of the performance standard.

Core Skills

1. Obtains information and instructions from the client

1.1 Establishing a relationship with the client

The specialist acts in a professional manner to create an atmosphere to gain the client's confidence, communicate effectively and address the client's needs.

For the interview, the specialist:

- Obtains any prior relevant background information available to the specialist;
- Conducts the interview in an appropriate manner and setting;
- Is patient, reassuring and sensitive to the client's needs; and
- Discusses, and deals appropriately with, the issue of costs and expenses.

1.2 Eliciting information and facts

The specialist elicits information from the client and ascertains the client's objectives by:

- Observing the client, asking effective questions, listening carefully and confirming mutual understanding; and
- Guiding the process by knowledge of the relevant law and giving appropriate advice.

The specialist demonstrates thoroughness in ordering and recording accurately the information and advice.

2. Analyses information

2.1 Identifying facts and issues

The specialist analyses the information provided by the client and identifies:

- The relevant issues of fact and law; and
- Matters that require further research.

2.2 Conducting legal research

The specialist knows the sources most likely to be of assistance and carries out the necessary legal research arising from the issues.

2.3 Obtaining further information and verifying facts

The specialist knows what further information is required and when and how to verify the facts.

The specialist checks information received by checking with sources, such as government and other professionals, particularly details relating to:

- Assets and liabilities including superannuation, interest in trusts and private companies;
- Relationships;
- Capacity; and
- Domicile, residence and citizenship status.

2.4 Identifying solutions

The specialist analyses the key features of the client's instructions having regard to:

- All the information so far obtained;
- The law; and
- Procedural requirements.

The specialist then prepares initial strategies to be discussed with the client.

3. Develops plan

3.1 Advising the client

The specialist advises the client on the relevant law and the available options, including advice, for each option, on:

- Rights and obligations;
- Processes and time frames;
- Costs implications;
- Viability; and
- Settles the terms of the retainer with the client.

The specialist assists the client to formulate objectives taking into account the desired outcomes, priorities, resources and any special needs.

3.2 Confirming instructions

The specialist confirms the client's instructions and the terms of the retainer.

The specialist is aware and informs the client of the time normally required for each step of the proceedings.

The specialist acts:

- For a will - promptly and efficiently in relation to the client's instructions;
- For uncontested matters - with regard to the time required for each stage; and
- For litigious matters - with regard to the time limits imposed by legislation and the Court.

4. Implements plan

4.1 Drafting wills

The specialist drafts the will and other appropriate documents:

- Accurately and concisely;
- Applying all relevant law to the facts;
- Giving effect to the client's confirmed instructions and having regard to the will maker's age, assets (estate and non-estate) and known circumstances; and
- Giving consideration to enduring powers of attorney; enduring Guardianship and Advance Healthcare Directives.

The draft is considered by the client, together with the appropriate advice given by the specialist on its provisions.

The specialist advises on the effects of any changes requested by the client and makes any amendments to the draft required by the client.

The specialist obtains proper execution of the final form of the will, advises on storage and the need for future revision, and costs the will.

4.2 Obtaining or contesting grants

The specialist has a thorough knowledge of the laws and practices relating to grants of probate and administration.

In uncontested matters the specialist:

- Must be able to prepare special and unusual grants;
- Prepares all documents accurately, efficiently and promptly;
- Obtains the grant without delay; and
- Properly identified the person entitled to the grant.

In contested matters the specialist:

- Initiates, intervenes in or defends proceedings, and prepares court documents which present the case properly and comply with court rules and practices;
- Conducts any interlocutory procedure relevant to the jurisdiction and prepares witness statements and affidavits;
- Where necessary, advises on appeal; and
- Considers when to brief counsel, chooses an appropriate barrister and acts appropriately as the instructing solicitor.

4.3 Administration of estates

The specialist advises the client and acts, where instructed, on:

- The payment of debts, insolvent and solvent estates;
- The collection and transmission of assets, including overseas assets; and
- The keeping of accounts.

When undertaking these tasks the specialist is:

- Guided by a thorough knowledge of:
 - The law involving the rights and duties of the personal representative and beneficiaries; and
 - The requirements of asset holders.
- Sensitive to the timing of transactions; and
- Aware of taxation and stamp duty implications.

4.4 Accounts

The specialist is aware of, and acts accordingly, with respect to:

- The rights of, and limitations upon, the personal representative to commission and reimbursement for expenses properly incurred; and
- The rights of the representative to have accounts passed as evidence of proper administration.

The specialist demonstrates knowledge of the required detail in accounts, procedure for passing accounts and, if required applying for commission.

4.5 Family provision

The specialist:

- Has a thorough understanding of, and acts in accordance with, the provisions of all relevant legislation;
- Is able to advise clearly and impartially on the eligibility of the applicant, the prospects of the application and the costs implications for both the applicant and the estate; and
- Acts promptly and efficiently in relation to time limits.
