

Brett McGrath
Registrar
Sydney Registry, Family Court of Australia and Federal Circuit Court of Australia

Brett began his career in private practice in 2012 at Marsdens Law Group in south-western Sydney, before joining the national firm Gadens in 2018, practising exclusively in family law.

Elected to the Council of the Law Society of New South Wales in 2018, Brett sits on various committees including the Family Issues Committee, Diversity and Inclusion and is currently the Deputy-Chair of the Professional Conduct Committee. Brett is a sessional lecturer at Western Sydney University, coordinating the Family Law and subjects since 2018.

Brett has been a Registrar with the Family Court of Australia and Federal Circuit Court of Australia since 2019. Most recently, Brett was selected as one of two National Registrars to oversee and implement the new National COVID-19 List designed to triage and hear urgent family law matters arising from the COVID-19 pandemic, as well as being involved in the development of the expansion of the Courts' ADR functions.
