

Professor Samuel Harvey, UNSW
Deputy Director and Chief Psychiatrist,
Black Dog Institute

Samuel Harvey is the Deputy Director and Chief Psychiatrist at the Black Dog Institute and a Professor at UNSW. As well as running the Black Dog Institute's clinical services, Sam also runs a program of research focused on the links between work and mental health. Sam has advised many organisations, governments and the World Health Organisation in how the best available research can be used to create more mentally healthy workplaces.