

Benjamin Keyworth

Hunt & Hunt Lawyers

Born and raised in Newcastle Australia, Ben became a lawyer after his childhood ambition to be a velociraptor was foiled by a lack of ambition among geneticists.

Now resigned to life as another kind of cold-blooded monster, Ben works at Hunt & Hunt Lawyers in family law, encountering the same amount of misery and drama in a month that most people see in a lifetime, or maybe the first 20 minutes of MAFS.

Outside his busy work schedule of mimicking human emotions and reassuring people that their breakup was entirely the other person's fault., Ben pretends to enjoy a number of hobbies, including basketball, baking and tennis, but in reality mainly just naps.
