

Stella Rieusset
Legal Process Design Lead, Herbert Smith
Freehills

Stella Rieusset is the Legal Process Design Lead for the Asia Pacific region at Herbert Smith Freehills. In this role she works with legal teams and clients to design responsive, efficient and streamlined legal services. Stella is skilled in using a range of collaborative design, strategic foresight and process improvement techniques to drive transformation agendas and create constructive spaces for lawyers to problem-solve and co-design solutions with their clients.

With a background as a practising lawyer, Stella understands the challenges and opportunities inherent in legal process and has over 6 years' experience delivering legal process improvement and transformation programmes across a range of practice areas and industries.