

Judge Gerard Phillips

President, Personal Injury Commission

Judge Phillips is the inaugural President of the Personal Injury Commission of NSW, Australia's newest tribunal. Prior to his appointment to the District Court bench in 2019, Judge Phillips was a solicitor in private practice for over 30 years. He specialised in employment and industrial law and was a partner in the global law firm K & L Gates and served on its global management committee. While in practice, Judge Phillips was a frequent author in the Australian Financial Review on a range of legal and industrial relations topics. He is currently a council fellow at St

John's College within the University of Sydney.
