

Jacqueline Dawson

Principal Solicitor, Sexton Family Law

Jacqueline Dawson is the Principal of Sexton Family Law and an Accredited Specialist in Family Law. Admitted to practice as a solicitor in 1994 and an Accredited Specialist since 2001, Jacqueline began practice in early 1995 with the firm then known as Robyn Sexton & Associates, and remained as a principal of the firm when Judge Sexton was appointed to the Federal Magistrates Court. Jacqueline has served as a member of the Specialist Accreditation Board of the NSW Law Society since 2008, has served on the Family Law Committee of the Law Society in recent years and is also a member of the Professional Conduct Committee of the Law Society

THE LAW SOCIETY
OF NEW SOUTH WALES