

Stephen Harris

Partner, Moray & Agnew Lawyers

Stephen is an acknowledged industry leader in all aspects of workers compensation.

Stephen joined Moray & Agnew in 1977 following his admission and has been a partner of the firm since 1981.

In more than four decades of practice, he has worked exclusively in the area of workers compensation, representing insurers, self-insured corporations, public sector risk carriers and regulators. Stephen is an Accredited Specialist in Personal Injury Law.

In 2002, Stephen was appointed to the Injury Compensation Committee of the Law Society of NSW and remains on that committee.

In 2020, he was appointed as a Law Society of NSW representative on the Personal Injury Commission ahead of its commencement in 2021.

Stephen regularly appears as counsel at arbitrations before the Workers Compensation Commission, where he is highly regarded by both arbitrators and fellow practitioners.

Stephen has regularly presented papers and for client seminars and for various legal bodies including The College of Law and at the annual NSW Legal Convention.

Stephen was ranked as a Preeminent Lawyer – Workers Compensation (Defendant) in NSW by Doyle's Guide in 2019 and 2020.
