

Eric Fleming

CEO, Fleming Job Hall

Eric is a psychologist, author, performance coach and key note speaker who, for over 20 years, has been helping companies, executives, teams and individuals to change, develop and perform. His client base spans 4 continents and multiple business sectors, including media, transport, manufacturing, music, finance, publishing, health, government, sports and entertainment. Eric's background lies in community health, stress management and performance psychology; it is his experience in helping individuals and teams improve their well being, productivity and performance that underpins all of his work with organisation's. Over the years Eric has worked with many remote work teams and as a consequence he has deep insights into the challenges Leaders are facing in today's "work from home" environment.

THE LAW SOCIETY
OF NEW SOUTH WALES