THE FUTURE OF LAW

4.00pm-5.00pm

The breakthrough lawyer – turning the uncertainty and disruption into an opportunity

The last two years have taught us that business is an aggregation of physical and digital spaces connected by tech without regard to geographic boundaries. Join Nick Abrahams on an insightful and entertaining journey of discovery that will help you turn the uncertainty and disruption of the new business and legal world into opportunity.

In this session, you will explore

- how the practice of law has changed and will change massively in the next five years;
- the secrets of organisations that have turned adversity into success;
- proven strategies for personal innovation;
- the key tech trends you need to embrace or be crushed by; and
- a blueprint for establishing a unique value proposition.

About Nick Abrahams

Nick Abrahams is the 2020 winner of the Financial Times Asia Pacific Legal Innovator of the Year Award and is the global co-leader of the digital transformation practice at Norton Rose Fulbright in Sydney.

Nick regularly advises on tech M&A, IT procurement and data privacy/cyber-security matters. He also assists in-house counsel teams with innovation projects. Nick has deep commercial/innovation expertise and global networks in the technology space. He uses this knowledge to add value to client projects beyond the merely legal.
