

COMMENCING PRACTICE AS A SOLE PRACTITIONER<sup>1</sup> – CHECKLIST

STEP 1

Prerequisites

- (i) When you have completed the required period of supervised legal practice (usually two years), you may make an application to have this statutory condition removed from your practising certificate. An application must be made by way of a statutory declaration addressing the Supervised Legal Practice Guidelines, which can be accessed in the Forms Directory.

AND

- (ii) You must also successfully complete a Practice Management Course<sup>2</sup> through an accredited provider prior to submitting an application for a principal practising certificate.

The following course providers have been accredited. Visit the Legal Practice Management Course<sup>2</sup> page on their website for their next available course.

- The Law Society of NSW
- The College of Law
- FMRC
- UNSW EDGE

Note: Accredited providers notify the Law Society when a practitioner has successfully completed a course.

STEP 2

Think about it first

- (i) Is a SOLE PRACTITIONER business structure right for your purposes?

OR

- (ii) Is an Incorporated Legal Practice (company structure) a more suitable structure for your purposes?
  - (a) Consider obtaining financial and/or legal advice concerning the provision of legal services as a sole practitioner or as a principal of an incorporated legal practice.
  - (b) Refer to the ‘commencing an incorporated legal practice checklist’ on this webpage.

STEP 3

Name of Sole Practice

In NSW a sole trader cannot operate under any name other than the sole trader’s name unless that business name is registered.

You can register your business name using ASIC’s online service.

STEP 4

Make sure you hold a ‘principal’ practising certificate

- (i) If you hold a NSW practising certificate that is not a principal practising certificate you need to complete a Variation Application form to practice as a principal of a law practice, which can be accessed in the Forms Directory.

OR

- (ii) Complete the Application Form for the Grant of an Australian Practising certificate as a principal of a law practice, which can be accessed in the Forms Directory.

IMPORTANT

- If you are establishing a new sole practice you will need to specify this on your practising certificate variation form.
- If applicable complete and return the notification of opening a General Trust Account, which can be accessed in the Forms Directory.
- You will only be issued with your principal’s practising certificate when the Law Society has received confirmation from your professional indemnity insurer that you hold approved insurance.

For more information about Lawcover and professional indemnity insurance visit www.lawcover.com.au.

<sup>1</sup> Under s6 of the Legal profession Uniform Law -sole practitioner means ‘an Australian legal practitioner who engages in legal practice on his or her own account’

<sup>2</sup> All practitioners seeking to vary their practising certificate to that of a principal must satisfy the Law Society that they have complied with Condition 3 of their practising certificate. Condition 3 requires that the holder must complete a Practice Management Course (PMC) before being authorised to engage in legal practice as a principal of a law practice.
