

Risk management as a strategic business tool – why legal is so much more than a dustpan and brush

Wednesday 9 March 2022 – 4.00pm – 5.00pm

Simon Levy

Chief Executive Officer, Risk Management Institution Australasia (RMIA)

Simon Levy has led an impressive career as a Non-Executive Director, Chief Executive Officer and Senior Risk Leader. In his twenty-plus years working in the risk industry, he has worked across several challenging and client-centric industry sectors from professional services, health and aged care, retail, and manufacturing. After three years on the Risk Management Institution Australasia (RMIA) board, he was appointed their Chief Executive Officer.

With a background in risk management, he is enthusiastic about collaboration and promoting the risk profession. His professional values can be summed up as follows:

- Honesty and Integrity
- Resilience and Drive
- Accountability and Dependability

Serving as the Chief Executive Officer at RMIA, the leading professional risk body in the Australasian region, Simon plays a significant role in shaping the risk profession, from education and accreditation to providing a network for risk professionals to connect and learn to grow together. A transformational leader who tells stories that inspire action while at the same time recognising the threads of opportunity to turn a vision into strategy execution. He quickly gains a credible voice within the risk industry and is committed to enhancing the RMIA and the risk profession.

Before his current role at RMIA, Simon worked as the Head of Strategic Risk at Marsh Advisory. He led a national team of risk practitioners that provided robust and effective risk services to ASX50 and notable brands globally. Before joining Marsh Advisory, he was an Enterprise Risk Manager at Australian Unity.

Simon is a graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors has an MBA and an undergraduate degree in Applied Science.

THE LAW SOCIETY
OF NEW SOUTH WALES