

Janet McKelvey

Barrister, Martin Place Chambers

Janet was admitted as a solicitor of the Supreme Court of NSW on 17 February 2006 and called to the Bar in August 2013. She is currently a Barrister at Martin Place Chambers. Previous to this, she was a Lawyer then Senior Associate: Property, Environment and Projects Group at Henry Davis York (HDY). During her time at HDY, she specialised in planning, environmental and valuation law. She regularly advised private developers, acquiring authorities, landowners, and the public sector in relation to planning, compulsory acquisition and valuation litigation and transactional matters as well as regularly appearing in the Land and Environment Court and the Court of Appeal.

Janet's key areas of practice are:

- Administrative
- Appellate
- Building and construction
- Environmental
- Land Acquisition Compensation
- Local Government
- Planning
- Property
- Valuation

