

NSW YOUNG LAWYERS

NSW Young Lawyers is a Committee of the Law Society of New South Wales that represents the Law Society and its members on issues and opportunities arising in relation to early career lawyers within their first five years of practice, or up to 36 years of age.

Through our multiple sub-committees, each dedicated to a substantive area of law, NSW Young Lawyers supports practitioners in their professional and career development by giving them the opportunity to expand their knowledge, advance their career and contribute to the profession and community.

SUB-COMMITTEE

MEETINGS

Each sub-committee meets regularly to discuss submissions, organise guest speakers to share insights on various topics, and facilitate networking opportunities. The goal of the sub-committees is to educate the legal profession and the wider community on issues and activities relevant to their specific practice area.

EVENTS

NSW Young Lawyers host a number of exciting professional development, wellbeing, networking and social events and programs each year. These are designed to expand your skills and knowledge and provide you with the opportunity to connect with fellow early career lawyers and other members of the profession.
