

GUIDE TO LIVING AND WORKING IN THE BLUE MOUNTAINS REGION

Welcome to the Blue Mountains Region. This guide is designed to help you smoothly transition into your new life as a lawyer here. Inside, you'll find handy tips and tricks to make settling in easier and more enjoyable.

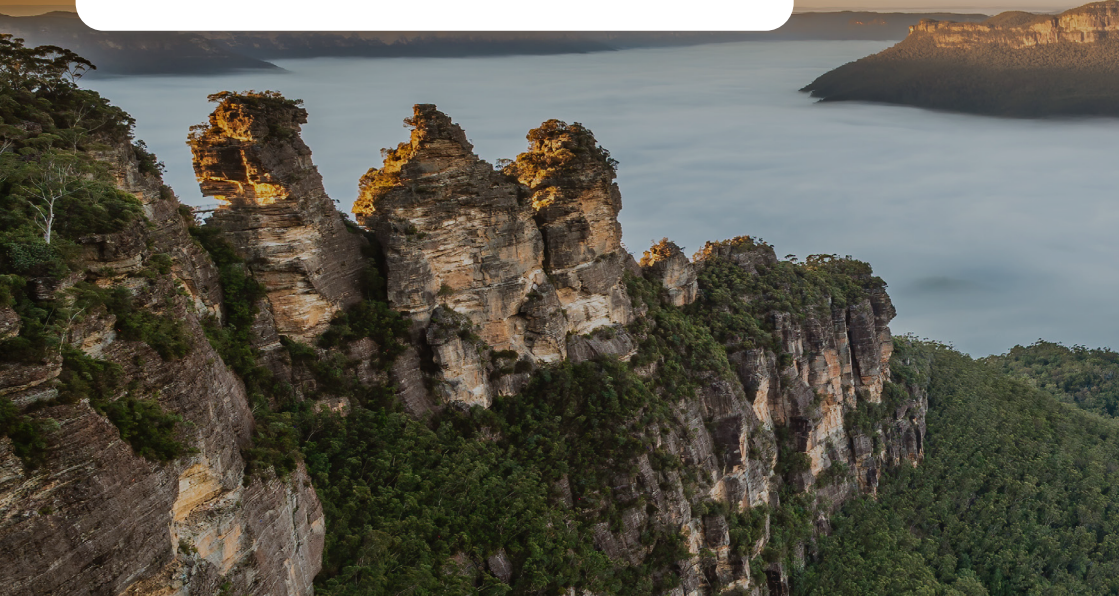

As the President of the Blue Mountains Law Society, I am delighted to introduce this guide designed to help you discover what life is like in our beautiful region. Having lived and worked here as a lawyer for 12 years, I can personally attest to the lifestyle, stunning environment, and diverse legal opportunities available.

Whether you are relocating or considering a move, this guide provides useful tips and insights to help you explore everything the Blue Mountains has to offer. Our region allows you to practise law in a variety of fields, all within just one to two hours of Sydney, while enjoying the incredible local scenery and lifestyle.

We are ready to welcome new lawyers to join our community and take full advantage of all the benefits our region has to offer.

REGIONAL LAW SOCIETIES

REGIONAL LAW SOCIETIES INFORMATION

The Regional Law Societies (RLS) are professional associations located in each of the 29 regions of New South Wales consisting of both regional and suburban areas. Each RLS focuses on the unique legal needs and challenges faced by its members, facilitating networking events, providing professional development opportunities, and advocating for local legal issues. While each RLS operates as its own independent entity, catering to the specific interest of their respective region, they are connected to the Law Society of New South Wales, which serves as the overarching professional body for all solicitors in the state. The Law Society establishes statewide standards, regulatory frameworks, and resources that the RLS can utilise, while also providing a platform for regional concerns to be communicated at a broader level. This relationship fosters collaboration, ensuring that the interests of local communities and the legal profession are effectively represented.

Check out page 18 to see the list of the Suburban and Regional Law Societies.

WORKING IN THE BLUE MOUNTAINS REGION

BLUE MOUNTAINS LAW SOCIETY INFORMATION

The Blue Mountains Law Society represents the area bounded by Glenbrook at the bottom of the Blue Mountains and Lithgow in the west. We play an active role in providing support to local groups such as the local Mountain Youth Services Team (MYST), and to local schools with scholarships and prizes.

As a legal practitioner in this region, you are eligible to join the Blue Mountains Law Society. As a member, you will have access to numerous events where you can earn Continuing Professional Development (CPD) points. The Blue Mountains RLS also hosts various networking and social events throughout the year, providing members with discounts and opportunities to connect, learn, and contribute to the local legal community.

Prospective members can look forward to events, such as CPD workshops, guest speaker presentations, networking, and social gatherings.

Events hosted by the Blue Mountains Law Society over the past year:

- Annual General Meeting (AGM):
A key event to review the achievements of the past year, discuss the future direction of the RLS, hear updates on activities, and vote for new office bearers.

- CPD Seminars:
Educational sessions led by experienced legal professionals covering topics such as Ethics, Costs, Complaints, Alternative Dispute Resolution, and Practice Management/Succession Planning.
- Networking and Social Events:
These events offer members the opportunity to build professional relationships and connect with others in the legal community.

The Blue Mountains RLS offers a variety of events throughout the year, ensuring there is always something exciting and valuable for members to look forward to!

NSW Young Lawyers has a number of sub-committees each dedicated to a substantive area of law.

Subscribing to a sub-committee is a great way to get involved and meet other early career lawyers.

The sub-committees' activities range from discussing legal developments, preparing submissions to government, producing practice guides, social gatherings, public forums and pro bono activities.

Most sub-committees meet regularly and offer video-conferencing facilities to allow individuals outside Sydney to attend.

Check out the list of the current sub-committees here.
